

PEOPLE

WYALONG Public School students did away with the traditional Fathers Day stall this year and instead, did something which would benefit dads all over Australia. They decided to "Foot It" for fathers and walk the Green Corridor to raise money for prostate cancer. Money was raised by the West Wyalong community as they purchased Father's Day cards with the description: "The person who purchased this Father's Day card helped support the Wyalong Public School Foot It for Fathers, a prostate cancer fundraising initiative". Cards cost $1 and were purchased from Wyalong Public School, Harvey Norman, Thom Dick and Harry's, West Wyalong and Toppo Post Offices and Soudens. Along with donations from the staff at Target, students and the community managed to raise over $200. The staff and students of Wyalong Public School thank the community for joining them in their efforts to raise money for prostate cancer. In other Toppo school news Silver penman was awarded this week to Nathan Jarrett, Sarah Foster, Maddi Lynch, Ryan Carter and Jake Leadbitter. Students of the week awards went to Ally Apolony (K), Xavier McIntyre (1-2), Tom Tough (3-4) and George Reynolds (5-6). Merit certificates went to Courtney West (K), Bradley Atkins (1-2), Josh Pettit (3-4) and Taelor Jackson (5-6) while sports awards were won by Lana Leadbitter (K), Jayden Mallinson (1-2), Tianna O'Meley (3-4) and Brendan De'Verdic (5-6). (Photo supplied)

Toe tapping entertainment

After a three month tour of Eastern Australia, The Cartwheels are back on the road again and set to entertain local audiences with a toe tapping musical performance at the West Wyalong Services and Citizens Sports Club next week.

The Cartwheels, which play original rootsy country and a mixture of fun covers drawing from a wide variety of influences, will perform live at the Sports Club on Thursday night.

View enjoy mystery tour

The September meeting for West Wyalong View Club was in the form of a mystery bus tour around Wyalong and West Wyalong.

No one knew where the trip was going to take them.

First stop was to Graeme and Anne Fairman in Victory Street.

There they saw antique crockery and farm implements they have collected over the years.

Next stop was Kristy's Cottage where homewares, gifts and gardenware are sold, members enjoyed morning tea and some also bought gifts for Christmas as well.

Next stop was the School of Arts building where they saw pieces of china painted by the china painters and works of art by various painters around town.

After a drive around Toppo, the group stopped at Toppo Tavern for lunch where the raffle was drawn and won by Ian Doecke.

After lunch they went to the Glass Gallery owned by Elaine Marshall.

Elaine explained how she sources the glass from overseas as she cannot get it in Australia.

Whilst at the gallery some members also bought some gifts.

All in all a lovely day was had by the View Club members.

Letters to the

