Sliding into Week 7

In the Classrooms

Last week we received a very exciting package..... our new decodable readers. The readers are for the Kindergarten and Year 1/2 classroom. The readers will complement our explicit reading practices that are based on the latest research. Students will use decodable books based on the sounds the children have been taught.

You may have heard your children coming home and saying we do 'Heggerty' every day. Heggerty is an explicit and structured oral program that helps students to hear and manipulate sounds in words. The program is designed to help students develop foundation skills to help them read and write. These skills are essential for students to become confident readers and writers.

P&C AGM

The P&C meeting will be next Tuesday 16th. This will be the AGM. Please come along and support the P&C. It is also a great time to have your input into the school and find out what is happening.

Clean Up Australia Day

Friday afternoon students and staff put on their gloves and cleaned up our school and surroundings. This initiative challenges us all to respect our environment. It inspires and empowers students to clean up, fix up and conserve our environment. The most interesting pieces of rubbish were a squashed toy car and a pink decomposed dummy.

Planetarium

Our students were engaged with the Planetarium on Friday and were taken out into the galaxy. Students informed me of interesting facts including:

- The Sun rotates on its own axis.
- Earth rotates around the Sun every year.
- Earth rotates on its own axis every 24 hours.
- Earth has one moon that rotates every month around the Earth.
- Mars has 2 moons that look like potatoes.
- Stars twinkle, planets don't twinkle.

PBL

This week we continue our PBL focus on behavior when lining up. Students will be reminded of our expectations when lining up under the C.O.L.A and before class.

Respectful	Responsible	Resilient Learner
Music off, voices off	Standing on class line	Right place, right time Line up quickly after the bell

Have a great week,

Kylie Taylor
Principal
